A Rebate that can last forever.

By Chris Vasecka

INSIDE THIS ISSUE

Get a Rebate from the City each year.

1

Rebates for everything from AC units, to Windows, to Cars have been made abundantly available for the past 3 years. From as little as $500 dollars to as much as $8500 for the purchase of a house. These rebates amount to a one time check in hopes that you will save more money in the next 10 years or more. How about a rebate that comes to you immediately on day 1 and for many years to come, whether you would want it or not. Rebates operate on the premise that they (Typically Government entities) will give you a rebate if you purchase what they (Government entity) want you to purchase. If you want this rebate you have to live within someone else's criteria which may or may not be a good fit for you.

A rebate you can choose to have and pay for.

If you could forgo paying 200,300,1000 or 2000 dollars to the city for water which is being wasted on your property and could do this without changing a thing, would you consider this as a rebate? And not only this year but for years to come, you would not need to pay these fees. This is what Use Your Water Right offers to its customers. We provide scientific audits which take an actual live measurement of the operation of the irrigation system, soil and shade conditions. From this information we provide specific irrigation programs which can be developed with the controller which is already being used on the site. We also provide solutions which can be implemented that can help to save even more money into future. The average upfront savings on an audit is between 25-40% on the cost of irrigation water. Properties such as Home Owner Associations and Commercial Properties with ½ acre or more of irrigated property can see a decrease of their water bills by $400 or more each year. Home owner Associations with 5 acres or more can see an immediate decrease of $1500 or more each year. The price of an audit is usually covered in the first year of irrigation savings and continues to pay for its self year after year. Go to www.useyourwaterright.com to learn more about how audits are conducted. Start your own rebate today; give us a call at 320-310-4241.
